Grants

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Sponsor</th>
<th>Program</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Disciplines</th>
<th>Award Amount</th>
<th>Type</th>
<th>Deadline</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Wiener-Gren Foundation</td>
<td>Post-Ph.D. Research Grants</td>
<td>The Foundation supports basic research in anthropology to ensure that the discipline continues to be a source of vibrant and significant work that furthers our understanding of humanity's cultural and biological origins, development, and variation. Research should demonstrate a clear link to anthropological theory and debates, and promises to make a solid contribution to advancing these ideas. There is no preference for any methodology, research location, or subfield. The Foundation particularly welcomes proposals that employ a comparative perspective, can generate innovative approaches or ideas, and/or integrate two or more subfields. Post-Ph.D. Research Grants are awarded to individuals holding a Ph.D. or equivalent degree to support individual research projects.</td>
<td>Anthropology</td>
<td>Up to $20,000</td>
<td>Grant</td>
<td>11/1/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Leakey Foundation</td>
<td>Research Grants</td>
<td>The Leakey Foundation exclusively funds research related specifically to human origins. Priority of funding is commonly given to exploratory phases of promising new research projects that meet the stated purpose of the Foundation. All advanced doctoral students (advanced to candidacy – all but dissertation) and established scientists are eligible for Leakey Foundation Research Grants.</td>
<td>Anthropology, Archeology</td>
<td>Up to $25,000</td>
<td>Grant</td>
<td>11/10/2018</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tremaine Foundation</td>
<td>Emily Hall Tremaine Exhibition Award</td>
<td>Through the competitive biennial application process, the Exhibition Award supports up to two thematic exhibitions of contemporary art that are fresh and experimental in nature. Applications are accepted on a biennial basis from any curator, or curatorial team, applying in partnership with an established nonprofit exhibition space, whether a traditional gallery or museum, or an alternative non-profit venue. The curator can be on staff at the partnering exhibition space or a guest/curator working with the partnering space for this exhibit. The proposal should be a strong, thematic exhibition that puts the works of contemporary art and/or architecture in a new or unconventional aesthetic, historical, cultural, and/or social framework. The award includes five components: Core Exhibition &amp; Publication - up to $50,000; Touring Incentive - up to $20,000; Support for Living Artists - up to $15,000; Video Documentation - up to $25,000; Curatorial Development - up to $5,000.</td>
<td>Arts, Architecture</td>
<td>Up to $215,000</td>
<td>Grant</td>
<td>1/1/2018</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD)</td>
<td>Faculty Research Visit Grant &amp; Art Study</td>
<td>DAAD offers grants for one to three months in all academic disciplines to scholars at US and Canadian institutions of higher education to pursue research at universities, libraries, archives, institutes or laboratories in Germany. Grants are awarded for specific research projects and cannot be used for travel only.</td>
<td>Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences</td>
<td>2,240 Euros (max)</td>
<td>Grant</td>
<td>10/15/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GRAMMY Foundation</td>
<td>Archiving and Preservation Projects</td>
<td>Grants to organizations and individuals to support efforts that advance the archiving and preservation of the music and recorded sound heritage of the Americas. The Archiving and Preservation area has two funding categories: Preservation Implementation and Planning, Assessment and/or Consultation.</td>
<td>Art Works/Artifacts - Restoration and Preservation</td>
<td>$5,000 – $20,000</td>
<td>Grant</td>
<td>October</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Russel Sage Foundation</td>
<td>Project and Presidential Awards</td>
<td>The Foundation sponsors rigorous social scientific research as a means of diagnosing social problems and improving social policies. The Foundation’s awards are restricted for social science research within its 5 program areas: Behavioral Economics, Cultural Contact, Future of Work, Immigration and Social Inequality. Requests above $35,000, up to a maximum of $150,000 (including overhead) are processed as Project Award applications. Any requests up to $35,000 are processed as Presidential Award applications and cannot include any overhead/in indirect costs. RPF is particularly interested in supporting research projects by early career scholars and encourages them to apply for these grants. All applicants (both PI and Co-PIs) must have a Ph.D. or comparable terminal degree, or a strong career background that establishes their ability to conduct high-level, peer-reviewed scholarly research. All nationalities are eligible to apply and applicants do not have to reside in the U.S.</td>
<td>Behavioral/Social Sciences/Services/Others</td>
<td>Up to $150,000</td>
<td>Grant</td>
<td>11/30/2017 (LOI)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Loeb Classical Library Foundation</td>
<td>Loeb Classical Library Foundation Fellowship</td>
<td>The Loeb Classical Library Foundation awards fellowships to qualified scholars to support research, publication, and other projects in the area of classical studies. Fellowships will normally range from $5,000 to $25,000, and may occasionally exceed that limit in the case of unusually interesting and promising projects. Applicants must have faculty or faculty emeritus status at a college or university at the time of application and during the entire time covered by the fellowship. Fellowships may be used for a wide variety of purposes. Examples include publication of research, enhancement of exhibitions, travel to libraries or collections, dramatic productions, excavation expenses, or cost of research materials.</td>
<td>Classical Studies</td>
<td>Up to $35,000</td>
<td>Grant</td>
<td>11/1/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PEN American Center</td>
<td>PEN Literary Awards</td>
<td>The PEN Literary Awards are the most comprehensive in the United States. Each year, with the help of its partners and supporters, PEN confers more than $150,000 to writers in the fields of fiction, science writing, essays, sports writing, biography, children’s literature, translation, drama, or poetry. See website for more information on specific awards.</td>
<td>Creative Writing</td>
<td>Varies</td>
<td>Grants</td>
<td>August</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Calvin K. Kazanjian Economics
Foundation Grants

The Foundation maintains a vital interest in the overall efforts to increase economic literacy, including the application of new strategies for teaching economics. This includes online and web-based instruction, projects, policy studies, or programs that encourage measurement of economic understanding, and programs that help otherwise disenfranchised youth and/or young adults with children learn to participate in the economic system. The Foundation will look most favorably at programs that match grants of support with funds from other organizations, learned institutions, universities, and government sources. Economics $5,500 - $150,000 (average of $22,000) Grant 2/15/2018 6/15/2018

Russel Sage Foundation Small Grants Program in Behavioral Economics

The Russell Sage Behavioral Economics Roundtable supports a small grants research program to support high quality research in behavioral economics and to encourage young investigators to enter this developing field. There are no limitations on the disciplinary background of the principal investigator, and the proposed research may address any economic topic. Interdisciplinary efforts are welcome. Applicants must be advanced doctoral students or junior (non-tenured) faculty members who have been out of graduate school for two or fewer years. Economics Up to $7,500 Grant Rolling

American Educational Research Association (AERA) AERA Research Grant

Supports quantitative research on U.S. education issues using data from the large-scale, national and international data sets supported by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), NSF, and other federal agencies, to increase the number of researchers using these data sets. Available for faculty at institutions of higher education, postdoctoral researchers, and other doctoral-level scholars. Applications are encouraged from a variety of disciplines, such as but not limited to, education, sociology, economics, psychology, demography, statistics, and psychometrics. Education Research, Multiple Disciplines $20,000 - $35,000 Grant 9/15/2017

Spencer Foundation Small Research Grants

The Foundation currently accepts proposals for small research grants, with a budget limit of $50,000, in education research. Historically, the foundation has funded work across and within a range of disciplines, including education, psychology, sociology, economics, history, and anthropology.

Elderly-Services For, Planning/Policy Studies $20,000 Grant 10/15/2017

Borchard Foundation Center on Law and Aging Academic Research Grants

The Center recognizes the need for further research and scholarship about new or improved public policies, laws and/or programs that will enhance the quality of life for the elderly. The Center expects grantees to meet the objectives of the grant program through individual or collaborative research projects that: analyze and recommend changes in one or more important existing public policies, laws, and/or programs relating to the elderly or vitally affect the need for and recommend new public policies, laws, and/or programs for the elderly necessitated by changes in the number and demographics of the country’s and the world’s elderly populations, by advances in science and technology, by changes in the health care system, or by other developments. This program is open to all interested and qualified legal, health sciences, social sciences, and gerontology scholars and professionals.

Elderly-Services For, Planning/Policy Studies $20,000 Grant 10/15/2017

The Gladys Krieble Delmas Foundation Humanities Program

The Foundation intends to further the humanities along a broad front. Programs in the following areas are eligible: history; archaeology; literature; languages, both classical and modern; philosophy; ethics; comparative religion; the history, criticism, and theory of the arts; and those aspects of the social sciences which share the content and methods of humanistic disciplines. The Foundation welcomes projects that cross the boundaries between humanistic disciplines and explore the connection between the humanities and other areas of scholarship. The Humanities Program is primarily directed to institutions of higher education and humanistic enterprises such as learned societies, museums, and major editorial projects. Awards are made for single-year, and not multi-year, projects. According to Pele Bauch, Foundation Administrator at the Delmas Foundation, the Foundation "can only receive one request per department per year."

Humanities Varies Grant Rolling

Social Science Research Council (SSRC) Abe Fellowship

To encourage international multidisciplinary research on topics of pressing global concern and promote a new level of intellectual cooperation between the Japanese and American academic and professional communities committed to and trained for advancing global understanding and problem solving. Provides a minimum of 3 and maximum of 12 months of full-time support over a 24 month period. Fellowship tenure need not be continuous, but at least one third should be in residence abroad in Japan.

Japan, Interdisciplinary Full-time support Grant 9/1/2018

John Templeton Foundation Core Funding Area Submissions

The John Templeton Foundation is interested in ideas for projects related to their Core Funding Areas. These include: Science and the Big Questions, Character Virtue Development, Individual Freedom and Free Market, Exceptional Cognitive Talent and Genius, Genetics and Voluntary Family Planning. The first step in their application process is creating an Online Funding Inquiry. If the Foundation approves your Online Funding Inquiry, they will ask for a more detailed Full Proposal. They accept both small and large grant proposals. Small Grants are defined as requests for $217,400 (USD) or less. Large Grants are defined as requests for more than $217,400 (USD).

Multiple Disciplines Varies Grant Small grant Off- August Large grant Off- August

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr. Research Fellowships

The fellowships are intended to support scholars in the production of substantial works in either of the following areas: the foreign policy of the Kenned Foundation, especially in the Western Hemisphere; or the Kenned Foundation’s domestic policy, particularly with regard to social justice or the conservation of natural resources. The successful candidate(s) will develop at least a portion of their original research using archival materials from the Kenned Library.

North American History Up to $5,000 Grant 8/15/2018
Meet the Composer

Meet The Composer offers a wide array of on-going programs and other initiatives that aim to benefit composers and the new music field.

Performing Arts

$250 - $15,000

Grant

Varies by program

Searle Freedom Trust

Research Grants

The Searle Freedom Trust is primarily interested in supporting domestic public policy research. Through its grant-making, the foundation seeks to develop solutions to the country's most important and challenging domestic policy issues. Recognizing that good policymaking relies on the availability of high-quality research, the foundation invests primarily in scholarship that results in the publication of books, journal articles, and policy papers. With the foundation's assistance, university and think tank scholars investigate a wide range of issues, including: Tax and budget policy; Cost-benefit analysis of regulatory practices and proposals; The workings of the legal system; Environmental policy; Social welfare reform; K-12 and higher education policy.

Planning/Policy Studies, Economics, Law, Social Services

Up to $300,000

Grant

12/15/2017

4/16/2018

Smith Richardson Foundation

International Security and Foreign Policy Program - Junior Faculty Research Grant Program

Supports junior faculty research on American foreign policy, international relations, international security, military policy, and diplomatic and military history. Grants support tenure-track junior faculty engaged in the research and writing of a scholarly book on an issue or topic of interest to the policy community, to buy-out up to one year of teaching time and to undertake research costs (including research assistance and travel). Projects in military and diplomatic history are especially encouraged.

Political Science

$60,000

Grant

October

Psychology

Visionary Grants

The AFP Visionary Grants seek to seed innovation through supporting research, education and intervention projects and programs that use psychology to solve social problems in the following priority areas: Understanding and fostering the connection between behavior and physical health to ensure well-being, reducing stigma and prejudice to promote unity and harmony, understanding and preventing violence to create a safer, more humane world and supporting programs that address the long-term psychological needs of individuals and communities in the aftermath of disaster. Applicants must: be a graduate student or early career researcher (no more than 10 years postdoctoral), be affiliated with a nonprofit charitable, educational or scientific institution, or governmental entity operating exclusively for charitable and educational purposes, and have demonstrated competence and capacity to execute the proposed work.

Psychology

$20,000

Grant

4/1/2018

GRAMMY Foundation

Scientific Research Projects Grant Program

Grants to organizations and individuals to support research on the impact of music on the human condition. Examples might include the study of the effects of music on mood, cognition and healing, as well as the medical and occupational well-being of music professionals and the creative process underlying music. Priority is given to projects with strong methodological design as well those addressing an important research question.

Psychology

Up to $20,000

Grant

October

Boston College

Steven H. Sandell Grant Program

The Steven H. Sandell Grant Program supports scholars in the field of retirement research and policy, providing opportunities for junior scholars from all academic disciplines to pursue cutting-edge projects on retirement income issues. Priority areas include: Social Security; Macroeconomic analyses of Social Security; Wealth and retirement income; Program interactions; International research; Demographic research. Applicants are required to complete the research outlined in the proposal within one year of the award. Grant recipients may be required to present their work to the Social Security Administration in Washington, DC or Baltimore, MD. The Principal Investigator (PI) and Co-Principal Investigator (Co-PI), if applicable, are required to have a Ph.D. or comparable professional certification. The PI and Co-PI must be junior scholar(s) who are within the first 1-10 years of completing their Ph.D. or comparable professional certification or senior scholar(s) working in a new area. The scholar(s) must be employed full-time at an academic or research institution.

Retirement Studies, Multiple Disciplines, Early Career

$45,000

Grant

1/31/2018

Wabash Center

Project Grants

Funds projects that enhance teaching and learning in the fields of religion or theology and that promote a sustained conversation about pedagogy through the improvement of practical applications of teaching and learning methods, the encouragement of research and study of pedagogical issues, and the creation of a supportive environment for teaching. All proposals should maintain a reference to specific classroom practices and challenges. Proposals for Small Project Grants (up to $1,500) can be submitted at any time during the year.

Religious Studies

Up to $30,000

Grant

2/25/2018

American Sociological Association

Fund for the Advancement of the Discipline Grants

The American Sociological Association (ASA) invites submissions for the Fund for the Advancement of the Discipline (FAOD) awards. The goal of this program is to nurture the development of scientific knowledge by funding small, groundbreaking research initiatives and other important scientific research activities such as conferences. FAO awards provide scholars with “seed money” for innovative research that has the potential for challenging the discipline, stimulating new lines of research, and creating new networks of scientific collaboration. The award is intended to provide opportunities for substantive and methodological breakthroughs, broaden the dissemination of scientific knowledge, and provide leverage for acquisition of additional research funds. Principal Investigators (PI) and Co-PI(s) must have a Ph.D. or equivalent. The ASA encourages submissions from individuals who are early in their careers.

Sociology

$8,000

Grant

12/15/2017

6/15/2018
Focus Grants: Up to $500,000 per year for up to three years for innovative, high-risk, potentially high-yield projects that focus on a specific area of suicide prevention, determined by AIP and its Scientific Council. LOI must be submitted by August 15th. Link: Standard Research Innovation Grants: up to $100,000 over 2 years. Grants awarded to investigators at any level performing research involving two or more unique sites with each site contributing unique expertise, as well as data collection. LOI must be submitted by September 15th. Distinguished Investigator Innovation Grants: Up to $125,000 over 2 years. Grants awarded to investigators at the level of associate professor or higher with an established record of research and publication on suicide. Standard Research Innovation Grants: Up to $100,000 over 2 years. Grants awarded to individual investigators at any level. Young Investigator Innovation Grants: Up to $85,000 over 2 years. Grants awarded to investigators at or below the level of assistant professor. These grants must allocate $10,000 ($5,000 per year) of their award for an established suicide researcher to mentor the Young Investigator. Pilot Innovation Grants: Up to $10,000 over one or two years. Awarded to investigators at any level, these grants provide seed funding for new projects that have the potential to lead to larger investigations. These grants typically entail feasibility studies rather than hypothesis-driven research.

Chiang Ching-kuo Foundation for International Scholarly Exchange

Scholars at academic institutions are eligible to apply for research grants. Researchers focusing on the social, cultural, economic or political development of Taiwan over the past few decades are especially encouraged to apply. Priority will be given to collaborative projects with scholars in Taiwan. Research grants are usually given for no more than two years. The budget for research grants does not include salary for the researcher except for summer salary calculated at 1/9 of the scholar’s annual salary. An average research grant might also include costs for research assistants, living costs, and travel expenses.

Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation

The Foundation welcomes proposals from any of the natural and social sciences and the humanities that promise to increase understanding of the causes, manifestations, and control of violence and aggression in relation to social change, intergroup conflict, war, terrorism, crime, and family relationships, among other subjects. Highest priority is given to research that can increase understanding and amelioration of urgent problems of violence and aggression in the modern world.

American Foundation for Suicide Prevention

Suicide Up to $500,000 Grant Varies by program

George A. and Eliza Gardner Howard Foundation

Howard Fellowship

Art History, Sculpture $33,000 Non-Residential Fellowship 11/1/2017

American Association of University Women

American Fellowships- Summer/Short-Term Research Publication Grants

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences $6,000 Non-Residential Fellowship 11/15/2017

American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS)

Fellowships and Grants

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences Varies Non-Residential Fellowship Varies by program

American Council of Learned Societies

Frederick Burkhardt Residential Fellowships for Recently Tenured Scholars

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences $105,500 Fellowship (Non-Residential and Residential September)

Non-Residential Fellowships

Distinguished Investigator Innovation Grants: Up to $125,000 over 2 years. Grants awarded to investigators at the level of associate professor or higher with an established record of research and publication on suicide. Standard Research Innovation Grants: Up to $100,000 over 2 years. Grants awarded to individual investigators at any level. Young Investigator Innovation Grants: Up to $85,000 over 2 years. Grants awarded to investigators at or below the level of assistant professor. These grants must allocate $10,000 ($5,000 per year) of their award for an established suicide researcher to mentor the Young Investigator. Pilot Innovation Grants: Up to $10,000 over one or two years. Awarded to investigators at any level, these grants provide seed funding for new projects that have the potential to lead to larger investigations. These grants typically entail feasibility studies rather than hypothesis-driven research.

Chiang Ching-kuo Foundation for International Scholarly Exchange

Scholars at academic institutions are eligible to apply for research grants. Researchers focusing on the social, cultural, economic or political development of Taiwan over the past few decades are especially encouraged to apply. Priority will be given to collaborative projects with scholars in Taiwan. Research grants are usually given for no more than two years. The budget for research grants does not include salary for the researcher except for summer salary calculated at 1/9 of the scholar’s annual salary. An average research grant might also include costs for research assistants, living costs, and travel expenses.

Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation

The Foundation welcomes proposals from any of the natural and social sciences and the humanities that promise to increase understanding of the causes, manifestations, and control of violence and aggression in relation to social change, intergroup conflict, war, terrorism, crime, and family relationships, among other subjects. Highest priority is given to research that can increase understanding and amelioration of urgent problems of violence and aggression in the modern world.

American Foundation for Suicide Prevention

Suicide Up to $500,000 Grant Varies by program

George A. and Eliza Gardner Howard Foundation

Howard Fellowship

Art History, Sculpture $33,000 Non-Residential Fellowship 11/1/2017

American Association of University Women

American Fellowships- Summer/Short-Term Research Publication Grants

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences $6,000 Non-Residential Fellowship 11/15/2017

American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS)

Fellowships and Grants

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences Varies Non-Residential Fellowship Varies by program

American Council of Learned Societies

Frederick Burkhardt Residential Fellowships for Recently Tenured Scholars

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences $105,500 Fellowship (Non-Residential and Residential September)
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Foundation/Museum/Academy</th>
<th>Fellowship/Program</th>
<th>Details</th>
<th>Deadline</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation</td>
<td>Guggenheim Fellowships</td>
<td>For advanced professionals in all fields (natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, creative arts), except the performing arts, to further the development of scholars and artists by assisting them to engage in research in any field of knowledge and creation in any of the arts. Often characterized as “midcareer” awards, the fellowships are intended for individuals who have already demonstrated exceptional capacity for productive scholarship or exceptional creative ability in the arts. The program seeks to further the development of scholars and artists by helping them engage in research in any field of knowledge and creation in any of the arts, under the freed possible conditions. Fellowships provide grants to selected individuals over a time period between six and twelve months. Fellows may spend their grant funds in any manner they deem necessary to their work. For this year’s program, the foundation is only offering fellowships to citizens and permanent residents of the U.S. and Canada.</td>
<td>Non-Residential Fellowship</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paul Mellon Centre for Studies in British Arts</td>
<td>Grants and Fellowships</td>
<td>Senior Fellowships Grants £13,000 to established scholars in the field of British art, and architectural history to complete a manuscript or book for immediate publication. The fellowships are for senior scholars only and are for nine months each. Mid-Career Fellowships: £12,000 for research in the field of British art and architectural history. These awards are specifically designated for academics and scholars at universities or other institutions who are established in their careers and whose dissertations were awarded over six years previously. Suitably experienced freelance and independent scholars are also eligible to apply for these four-month awards. Award amount is Educational Programme Grants: Grants up to £3000 to Universities, Galleries, Museums and other institutions to help support conferences, seminars or other scholarly educational programmes within the field of British art and architectural history.</td>
<td>Non-Residential Fellowship</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chang Ching-kuo Foundation for International Scholarly Exchange</td>
<td>Scholarships Grants (Non-Residential Sabbatical)</td>
<td>Grants provide support for research on Chinese Studies in the humanities and social sciences. Tenured faculty may apply for a CCK Scholar Grant to help replace half of the salary of faculty on sabbatical, or for time off for research and writing. If grants from other sources are also awarded to the applicant, the Foundation’s grant, when added to the others, should not exceed the recipient’s annual salary. Priority will be given to collaborative projects with counterparts in Taiwan.</td>
<td>Non-Residential Fellowship</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH)</td>
<td>NEH-Mellon Fellowships for Digital Publication</td>
<td>Designed to support individual scholars pursuing interpretive research projects that require digital expression and digital publication. To be eligible for this opportunity, an applicant’s plans for digital publication must be essential to the project’s research goals.</td>
<td>Non-Residential Fellowship</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alfred P. Sloan Foundation</td>
<td>Sloan Research Fellowships</td>
<td>The Sloan Research Fellowships seek to stimulate fundamental research by early-career scientists and scholars of outstanding promise. These two-year fellowships are awarded yearly to 126 researchers in recognition of distinguished performance and a unique potential to make substantial contributions to their field. Candidates must hold a tenure-track (or equivalent) position. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. (or equivalent) in chemistry, computational or evolutionary molecular biology, computer science, economics, mathematics, neuroscience, ocean sciences, physics, or a related field. Candidates’ most recent Ph.D. (or equivalent) must have been awarded on or after September 1, 2011. Candidates must be nominated by a department head or other senior researcher. More than one candidate from a department may be nominated, but no more than three.</td>
<td>Economics</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Association of University Women</td>
<td>Postdoctoral Research Leave Fellowships</td>
<td>One year of support for women in tenure-track faculty positions in support of their earning tenure and further promotions. Postdoctoral fellowships are available in the arts and humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Limited additional funds may be available when matched by the fellow’s institution.</td>
<td>Non-Residential Fellowship</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Open Society Foundations</td>
<td>Grants and Fellowships</td>
<td>The Open Society Foundations work to build vibrant and tolerant democracies whose governments are accountable to their citizens. To achieve this mission, the foundations seek to shape public policies that assure greater fairness in political, legal, and economic systems and safeguard fundamental rights.</td>
<td>Fellowship (Non-Residential Fellowship)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture</td>
<td>Lapidus Initiative Fellowships for Digital Collections</td>
<td>The Omohundro Institute of Early American History &amp; Culture seeks proposals from scholars at all levels, in partnership with special collections libraries and historical societies, for Lapidus Initiative Fellowships for Digital Collections. These fellowships are intended to bring scholars and collections specialists together to make collections available for digital scholarship. The fellowship will award up to $5,000 to the holding library and to the scholar whose research relies on, or will be greatly enhanced by, the digitization of a collection or partial collection of materials related to early America, broadly conceived, before 1820. Scholars must partner with special collections libraries that will digitize the needed materials with the funds from the fellowship. Digitization may include (but is not limited to): the photographing of manuscripts, newspapers, graphic materials, or rare books; the scanning of index cards; the cataloging of rare materials; the enhancement of digital catalog records; or the inventories of manuscript collections.</td>
<td>Preservation and Restoration, Digital Collections</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The Huntington
Fellowships for Scholars of British and American History and Culture
Scholars come from around the world every year to conduct advanced humanities research using The Huntington’s collections. Through a rigorous peer-review program, the institution awards approximately 200 fellowships to scholars in the fields of history, literature, art, and the history of science. The Huntington’s independent research library has significant holdings in British and American literature; art history; the history of science and medicine; and the history of the book. Recipients of all fellowships are expected to be in continuous residence at The Huntington and to participate in and make a contribution to its intellectual life.

American History
Residential Fellowship
11/15/2017

Terra Foundation for American Art
Academic Workshop & Symposium Grants
The Terra Foundation for American Art actively supports projects that encourage international scholarship on American art topics, as well as scholarly projects with focused themes that further research of American art in an international context. Academic program funding is available for in-person exchanges such as workshops, symposia, and colloquia that advance scholarship in the field of American art (circa 1500–1980) that take place in Chicago or outside the United States; or in the United States and examine American art within an international context and include a significant number of international participants. Additionally, the foundation welcomes applications for international research groups. Such groups should involve 2 to 4 faculty members from two or more academic institutions, at least one of which must be located outside the United States.

Arts
Up to $25,000
Residential Fellowship
12/9/2017
2/15/2018

Smithsonian Institution
Fellowship Opportunities in American Art
The Smithsonian American Art Museum and its Renwick Gallery invite applications for research fellowships in art and visual culture of the United States. Fellowships are residential and support full-time independent and dissertation research. Senior fellowships are intended for scholars with a distinguished publication record who have held their doctoral degree for more than seven years or who possess a commensurate record of professional accomplishment at the time of application. The stipend for a one-year fellowship is $50,400 for postdoctoral and senior scholars, with an allowance of up to $4,000 available for short research trips. The standard residency is twelve months, but shorter terms are available with prorated stipends. See website for details on specific named fellowship opportunities.

Arts, Art History
$50,400
Residential Fellowship
12/1/2017

Metropolitan Museum of Art
Art History Fellowships
Art History Fellowships at The Met are an opportunity for scholars from around the world to use the museum as a place for exchange, research, and professional advancement. The Fellows are fully integrated into the life of The Met and through weekly gatherings and discussions, take part in research sharing and workshops that explore the inner workings of The Met. Fellows are given a workspace and access to libraries, collections, research facilities, labs, and the time and space to think.

Art History
$52,000
Residential Fellowship
11/3/2017

American Academy in Rome
Rome Prize Fellowship Program
Each year, the Rome Prize is awarded to emerging artists and scholars in the early or middle stages of their careers in the arts and humanities. Rome Prize recipients are invited to Rome for six months to two years to immerse themselves in the Academy community. Each Rome Prize winner is provided with a stipend, meals, a bedroom with private bath, and a studio or office. Fellowships are awarded in the following disciplines: Ancient Studies; Architecture/Design (includes graphic, industrial, interior, exhibit, set, costume, and fashion design, urban design, city planning, engineering, and other design fields); Historic Preservation and Conservation; Landscape Architecture (includes environmental design and planning, landscape/ecological urbanism, landscape history, sustainability and ecological studies, and geography); Literature (includes fiction, literary nonfiction, and poetry); Medieval Studies; Modern Italian Studies; Musical Composition; Renaissance and Early Modern Studies; Visual Arts (includes painting, sculpture, drawing, photography, film/video, installation, new media, digital arts, and other visual arts fields). Applicants for all Rome Prize Fellowships, except those applying for the National Endowment for the Humanities post-doctoral fellowship, must be United States citizens at the time of the application.

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities
$28,000
Residential Fellowship
11/1/2018

Camargo Foundation
Camargo Core Program
The Camargo Core Program offers time and space in a contemplative environment to think, create, and connect. By encouraging groundbreaking research and experimentation, it supports the visionary work of artists, scholars and thinkers in the Arts and Humanities. The program offers 8 to 11 week residential fellowships. The foundation welcomes applications from all countries and nationalities. Three main categories are available, with several subcategories for artists’ applications: Scholars: applicants should be connected to the Arts and Humanities working on French and Francophone cultures, including but not limited to cross-cultural studies that engage the cultures and influences of the Mediterranean region. Applicants are expected either to hold a PhD and a record of post-doctoral scholarship, or to be PhD candidates completing the final stages of research for, or writing of, their dissertation. Thinkers: Supports accomplished professionals and practitioners in cultural and creative fields (such as curators, journalists, critics, urban planners, independent scholars, etc.) who are professionally engaged in critical thought. Applicants should be working on French and Francophone cultures, including but not limited to cross-cultural studies that engage the cultures and influences of the Mediterranean region. Artists (all disciplines): applicants should be the primary creators of a new work/project and have achieved a track record of publications/exhibitions, credits, awards and/or grants. Applicants may include those who have been commissioned for multiple projects. When applying, artists will have to choose among the following subcategories: Visual Artists / Choreographers and Performance Artists / Writers and Playwrights / Film, Video and Digital Artists / Composers and Sound Artists / Multidisciplinary Artists.

Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities
Up to $11,000
Residential Fellowship
October
Artist Residencies
The MacDowell Colony provides time, space, and an inspiring environment to artists of exceptional talent. A MacDowell Fellowship, or residency, consists of exclusive use of a studio, accommodations, and three prepared meals a day for up to eight weeks. There are no residency fees. The Colony accepts applications from artists working in the following disciplines: architecture, film/video arts, interdisciplinary arts, literature, music composition, theatre, and visual arts. The sole criterion for acceptance is artistic excellence. Emerging as well as established artists are invited to apply. Applicants who are in a degree program as of the date of application are ineligible for a residency and therefore cannot apply. MacDowell is situated in a rural area with limited access to medical care facilities. Applicants with special medical needs should contact the Resident Director before applying.

Residencies for Arts
The Millay Colony for the Arts offers one-month residencies to six visual artists, writers and composers each month between the months of April and November. Nurturing the work of artists of all ages, from a range of cultures and communities, and in all stages of their artistic career, the Colony offers comfortable private rooms, private studio spaces and ample time to work in a quiet, pastoral atmosphere. The Colony does not obligate residents to participate in any events, nor are residents required to share or donate work. The Millay Colony accepts residents solely on the basis of artistic merit.

The Hodder Fellowship will be given to artists and writers of exceptional promise to pursue independent projects at Princeton University during the academic year. Potential Hodder Fellows are writers, composers, choreographers, visual artists, performance artists, or other kinds of artists or humanists who have "much more than ordinary intellectual and literary gifts." They are selected more "for promise than for performance." Given the strength of the applicant pool, most successful fellows have published a first book or have similar achievements in their own fields. The Hodder is designed to provide Fellows with the "studies leisure" to undertake significant new work. Advanced degrees preferred, although not required. Non-US citizens are welcome to apply. This fellowship cannot be used to fund work leading to a Ph.D. or any other advanced degree.

The Berlin Prize Fellowship is an interdisciplinary postdoctoral research fellowship, housed at the headquarters of the Academy in Cambridge, Massachusetts, to stimulate and support scholarly work by promising scholars and practitioners of the humanities and social sciences in the early stages of their careers. Preference is given to untenured junior faculty.

The American Academy in Berlin offers Bermuda Prize Fellowships to emerging as well as established scholars, writers, and professionals who wish to engage in independent study in Berlin. Fellowship benefits include round-trip airplane, Academy accommodations, partial board, and a stipend of $5,000 per month. Fellowships are typically awarded for an academic semester or, in some cases, for an entire academic year. Fellowships are restricted to US residents. US citizenship is not required. Candidates in academic disciplines must have completed a PhD at the time of application. Candidates working in other fields—such as journalism, film, law, or public policy—must have equivalent professional degrees. Writers should have published at least one book at the time of application.

The Center offers a fellowship to senior scholars to support original research at the Center in the humanities, including but not limited to Jewish studies, Russian and East European studies, American studies and Germanic studies, as well as musicology, linguistics, anthropology, sociology and history. Applications are welcome from college and university faculty in any field who have completed a PhD more than six years prior to the start of the fellowship and whose research will benefit considerably from consultation with materials in the collections of the Center's partners – American Jewish Historical Society, American Sephardi Federation, Leo Baeck Institute, Yeshiva University Museum, and YIVO Institute for Jewish Research. Fellowships carry a stipend of up to $60,000 per year for a period of one year.

The Center for Jewish History offers a fellowship to support original research at the Center in the humanities, including but not limited to Jewish studies, Russian and East European studies, American studies and Germanic studies, as well as musicology, linguistics, anthropology, sociology and history. Applications are welcome from college and university faculty in any field who have completed a PhD more than six years prior to the start of the fellowship and whose research will benefit considerably from consultation with materials in the collections of the Center's partners – American Jewish Historical Society, American Sephardi Federation, Leo Baeck Institute, Yeshiva University Museum, and YIVO Institute for Jewish Research. Fellowships carry a stipend of up to $60,000 per year for a period of one year.

Distinguished Visiting Fellows
The Advanced Research Collaborative (ARC) of the Graduate Center invites scholars and researchers outside of CUNY to apply for the Distinguished Visiting Fellowship program for the 2018 - 2019 academic year. Applicants should have outstanding records of published research and scholarship. In addition to academic distinction, preference will be given to scholars whose interests strengthen the research priorities of ARC in the following areas: Inequality, Immigration, Multilingualism, or Global Cities. Fellows are provided with an office, a computer, and access to the Graduate Center's academic infrastructure. Visiting Fellows present papers at the annual ARC seminar and participate in the general intellectual life of the GC, give presentations to the public where appropriate, and share their work in-progress with doctoral students in research praxis seminars. The Distinguished Visiting Fellowship program provides scholars and researchers a stimulating environment in which they conduct their own research, access the GC’s research centers and institutes, and collaborate with doctoral students and other leading scholars. Distinguished Visiting Fellows receive $72,000 for two semesters or $36,000 for one semester.
NIAS Individual Fellowships are awarded to senior scholars to carry out advanced research in the humanities and the social sciences. Fellows spend their time in research and writing, participate in the weekly Fellows Seminar, and offer one seminar related to their research. The Society for the Humanities will not consider applications from scholars who received the Ph.D. after this date. Applicants must also have one or more years of teaching experience, which may include teaching as a graduate student.

Council of American Overseas Research Centers CAORC Fellowships
The Council of American Overseas Research Centers (CAORC) Multi-Country Fellowship Program supports advanced regional or trans-regional research in the humanities, social sciences, or allied natural sciences for U.S. doctoral candidates and scholars who have already earned their Ph.D. Preference will be given to candidates examining comparative and/or cross-regional research. Applicants are eligible to apply as individuals or in teams. Scholars must carry out research in two or more countries outside the United States, at least one of which hosts a participating American overseas research center. Approximately nine awards of up to $10,500 each will be given. Funding is provided by the State Department’s Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs.

Getty Foundation Getty Scholar Grants
Getty Scholar Grants are for established scholars, or writers who have attained distinction in their fields. Recipients are in residence at the Getty Research Institute or Getty Villa, where they pursue their own projects free from academic obligations, make use of Getty collections, join their colleagues in a weekly meeting devoted to an annual research theme, and participate in the intellectual life of the Getty. Getty Scholars may be in residence for one of six periods ranging from three to nine months: September to December; January to March; April to June; September to March; January to June; or September to June. A stipend of up to $65,000 per year will be awarded based on length of stay. The grant also includes an office at the Getty Research Institute or the Getty Villa, an apartment in the Getty scholar housing complex, airfare to and from Los Angeles, and makes healthcare options available. Applications are welcome from researchers of all nationalities who are working in the arts, humanities, or social sciences.

Indiana University Mendel Fellowship
The Lilly Library of Indiana University invites applications for fellowships of up to $40,000 during the academic year in support of research in the library’s Bernardo Mendel collections. Mendel Fellowships are intended to support research by scholars from around the world in areas of particular interest to the Mendels, including: the history of the Spanish Colonial Empire; Latin American independence movements; European expansion in the Americas; voyages, travels and exploration; geography, navigation and cartography; German literature and history; and music, including sheet music. The amount of the stipend is based on the length of stay, which may range from one week to a full academic year. The fellowship is intended to cover travel to the Lilly Library and living expenses while in residence. There is no special application form; Candidates, ranging from doctoral research students to senior scholars, should submit a curriculum vitae, a 2-3 page proposal for their projects, including the specific holdings they intend to consult, two letters of recommendation, and an indication of length of stay, which may include the summer months.

Library of Congress John W. Kluge Center Fellowships
These fellowships allow scholars to conduct research in the humanities and social sciences in the John W. Kluge Center using the Library of Congress collections and resources, especially research that is interdisciplinary, cross-cultural or multilingual. Scholars who have received a terminal advanced degree within the past seven years in the humanities, social sciences or in a professional field such as architecture or law are eligible.

Netherlands Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities and Social Sciences NIAS Individual Fellowships
NIAS Individual Fellowships are awarded to senior scholars to carry out advanced research in the humanities and the social sciences. Fellowships should have at least three years of post-PhD degree academic experience and have already made a considerable contribution to their field. Applications are primarily evaluated on the basis of scientific quality, innovative character and originality. Scholarly achievements, grants, awards and publication record are also taken into consideration in the selection process. A NIAS fellowship awarded to a scholar from abroad includes subsidised accommodation, lunches, a personal study, research facilities, one international return ticket.

New York Public Library Fellowships at the Cullman Center
The Dorothy and Lewis B. Cullman Center for Scholars and Writers offers fellowships to people whose work will benefit directly from access to the Library's Bernardo Mendel collections. Mendel Fellowships are intended to support research by scholars from around the world in areas of particular interest to the Mendels, including: the history of the Spanish Colonial Empire; Latin American independence movements; European expansion in the Americas; voyages, travels and exploration; geography, navigation and cartography; German literature and history; and music, including sheet music. The amount of the stipend is based on the length of stay, which may range from one week to a full academic year. The fellowship is intended to cover travel to the Lilly Library and living expenses while in residence. There is no special application form; Candidates, ranging from doctoral research students to senior scholars, should submit a curriculum vitae, a 2-3 page proposal for their projects, including the specific holdings they intend to consult, two letters of recommendation, and an indication of length of stay, which may include the summer months.

Library of Congress John W. Kluge Center Fellowships
These fellowships allow scholars to conduct research in the humanities and social sciences in the John W. Kluge Center using the Library of Congress collections and resources, especially research that is interdisciplinary, cross-cultural or multilingual. Scholars who have received a terminal advanced degree within the past seven years in the humanities, social sciences or in a professional field such as architecture or law are eligible.

Netherlands Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities and Social Sciences NIAS Individual Fellowships
NIAS Individual Fellowships are awarded to senior scholars to carry out advanced research in the humanities and the social sciences. Fellowships should have at least three years of post-PhD degree academic experience and have already made a considerable contribution to their field. Applications are primarily evaluated on the basis of scientific quality, innovative character and originality. Scholarly achievements, grants, awards and publication record are also taken into consideration in the selection process. A NIAS fellowship awarded to a scholar from abroad includes subsidised accommodation, lunches, a personal study, research facilities, one international return ticket.

New York Public Library Fellowships at the Cullman Center
The Dorothy and Lewis B. Cullman Center for Scholars and Writers offers fellowships to people whose work will benefit directly from access to the Library's Bernardo Mendel collections. Mendel Fellowships are intended to support research by scholars from around the world in areas of particular interest to the Mendels, including: the history of the Spanish Colonial Empire; Latin American independence movements; European expansion in the Americas; voyages, travels and exploration; geography, navigation and cartography; German literature and history; and music, including sheet music. The amount of the stipend is based on the length of stay, which may range from one week to a full academic year. The fellowship is intended to cover travel to the Lilly Library and living expenses while in residence. There is no special application form; Candidates, ranging from doctoral research students to senior scholars, should submit a curriculum vitae, a 2-3 page proposal for their projects, including the specific holdings they intend to consult, two letters of recommendation, and an indication of length of stay, which may include the summer months.

Library of Congress John W. Kluge Center Fellowships
These fellowships allow scholars to conduct research in the humanities and social sciences in the John W. Kluge Center using the Library of Congress collections and resources, especially research that is interdisciplinary, cross-cultural or multilingual. Scholars who have received a terminal advanced degree within the past seven years in the humanities, social sciences or in a professional field such as architecture or law are eligible.

Netherlands Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities and Social Sciences NIAS Individual Fellowships
NIAS Individual Fellowships are awarded to senior scholars to carry out advanced research in the humanities and the social sciences. Fellowships should have at least three years of post-PhD degree academic experience and have already made a considerable contribution to their field. Applications are primarily evaluated on the basis of scientific quality, innovative character and originality. Scholarly achievements, grants, awards and publication record are also taken into consideration in the selection process. A NIAS fellowship awarded to a scholar from abroad includes subsidised accommodation, lunches, a personal study, research facilities, one international return ticket.

New York Public Library Fellowships at the Cullman Center
The Dorothy and Lewis B. Cullman Center for Scholars and Writers offers fellowships to people whose work will benefit directly from access to the Library's Bernardo Mendel collections. Mendel Fellowships are intended to support research by scholars from around the world in areas of particular interest to the Mendels, including: the history of the Spanish Colonial Empire; Latin American independence movements; European expansion in the Americas; voyages, travels and exploration; geography, navigation and cartography; German literature and history; and music, including sheet music. The amount of the stipend is based on the length of stay, which may range from one week to a full academic year. The fellowship is intended to cover travel to the Lilly Library and living expenses while in residence. There is no special application form; Candidates, ranging from doctoral research students to senior scholars, should submit a curriculum vitae, a 2-3 page proposal for their projects, including the specific holdings they intend to consult, two letters of recommendation, and an indication of length of stay, which may include the summer months.
Princeton University
Laurance S. Rockefeller, Visiting Faculty Fellowships
Fellows devote an academic year in residence at Princeton to research and writing about topics involving human values in public and private life. The program is open to scholars in all disciplines provided their research plans qualify. In recent years fellows have been drawn from fields including philosophy, political theory, literature, history, classics, economics and law, but this list is not exhaustive. Fellows participate in a weekly seminar attended by fellows and Center faculty to discuss work in progress and in various other seminars, colloquia and lectures sponsored by the Center. Fellows normally receive stipends of up to one-half their academic-year salaries (subject to a minimum and maximum set each fall). Ordinarily their home institutions provide a portion of their salaries in addition to all benefits, although this is not a requirement for appointment. Candidates must have a doctorate or equivalent professional degree and a strong record of research publications appropriate to their career stage. Typically Fellows hold faculty positions at other universities or colleges; in exceptional cases they consider applications from independent scholars when there is a high level of scholarly achievement.
Eligibility: Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences
Funding: Varies
Term: Residential Fellowship
Deadline: 11/8/2017

Rockefeller Foundation
Bellagio Center Residence
The Bellagio Residency program offers scholars, artists, thought leaders, policymakers and practitioners a serene setting conducive to focused, goal-oriented work and establish new connections with fellow residents, across a stimulating array of disciplines and geographies. Of particular interest are innovative projects that address one or more of the Rockefeller Foundation’s five interconnected issue areas: basic survival safeguards, global health, climate and environment, urbanization, social and economic security. The Bellagio Center offers an Academic Writing Residence, an Arts and Literary Arts Residency and a Practitioner Residence. See website for specifics.
Eligibility: Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences
Funding: Varies by program
Term: Residential Fellowship
Deadline: 12/1/2017 (Academic Writing, Arts & Literary Arts due)
Funding Source: Rocking Basc (Practitioner)

School for Advanced Research
Resident Scholars
Resident scholar fellowships are awarded annually by the School for Advanced Research (SAR) to up to six scholars who have completed their research and who need time to prepare manuscripts or dissertations on topics important to the understanding of mankind. Resident scholars may approach their research from the perspective of anthropology or from related fields such as history and sociology. Scholars from the humanities and social sciences are encouraged to apply. Weatherhead Fellowships: Two nine-month fellowship opportunities are available for scholars working in the humanities or social sciences. Scholars with doctorates who plan to write their book are eligible. Karin H. Lamon Fellowship: One nine-month residential fellowship is available for Native scholar working in the humanities or the social sciences. Scholars with doctorates who plan to write their books are eligible. Anne Ray Fellowship: One nine-month residential fellowship is available for a Native scholar with a Master’s or PhD in the arts, humanities, or social sciences to work on his or her own writing or curatorial project while serving as a mentor to two interns (recent graduates or graduate students) working at the Indian Arts Research Center. Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Fellowship in Latino Studies: Two nine-month residential fellowships in Latino studies are available. Scholars with doctorates at the assistant professor level who plan to complete book-length projects are eligible.
Eligibility: Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences
Funding: $40,000
Term: Residential Fellowship
Deadline: 11/9/2017

Smithsonian Institution
The Smithsonian Institution Fellowship Program
The Smithsonian Institution Fellowship Program supports independent research and study related to Smithsonian facilities, experts, or collection for the increase and diffusion of knowledge. SI Fellowships are awarded annually to scholars wishing to conduct independent study or research at one or more of the Smithsonian’s 19 units and research centers. Smithsonian fellowship stipends are not salary or compensation. They are meant to support study and research during the tenure of the appointment and cannot be issued retroactively. Fellowships will be provided with space to conduct their research within the department in which they are working. Fellowships are typically 9 to 12 months in length. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent for at least 7 years. The program is open to US citizens and Non-US citizens. Applicants whose native language is not English are expected to have the ability to write and converse fluently in English.
Eligibility: Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences
Funding: Up to $48,000
Term: Residential Fellowship
Deadline: 12/1/2017

Stanford University
Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences Fellowships
The Center offers a residential fellowship program for scholars working in a diverse range of disciplines that contribute to advancing research and thinking in social science. Fellows represent the core social and behavioral sciences (anthropology, economics, history, political science, psychology, and sociology) but also the humanities, education, legal studies, communications, and the biological, natural, health, and computer sciences. Applicants must hold a PhD, professional degree (e.g., J.D. M.D.), an equivalent foreign degree, or have achieved an equivalent level of professional reputation. They must be an academic faculty member—or an independent researcher—who exhibits a high level of achievement (adjusted for rank), including a strong record of research publications. As appropriate, stipends for the academic year will be awarded to supplement faculty sabbatical support; a significant portion of the fellow’s total support is generally provided by sabbatical funds and external funding from awards and grants secured by the fellow.
Eligibility: Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences
Funding: Up to $75,000
Term: Residential Fellowship
Deadline: 11/9/2017

The Gilder Lehrman Center for the Study of Slavery, Resistance, and Abolition at Yale University
Resident Fellows
The Gilder Lehrman Center for the Study of Slavery, Resistance, and Abolition at Yale University invites post-doctoral and independent scholars to conduct research at the Center for up to a year. The Center offers a range of fellowships for scholars working in a diverse range of disciplines that engage with the Center’s core programmatic goals. The Center seeks to support scholars who are at the beginning of their careers in a wide range of disciplines and who are working on projects that engage the Center’s core programmatic goals.
Eligibility: Arts/Humanities/Cultural Activities, Behavioral/Social Sciences
Funding: Varies by rank
Term: Residential Fellowship
Deadline: January
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name of Institution</th>
<th>Program</th>
<th>Type of Fellowship</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Duration</th>
<th>Application Deadline</th>
<th>Funding Information</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Studies at Harvard University</td>
<td>Radcliffe Institute Fellowship Program</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>The Radcliffe Institute Fellowship Program is a scholarly community where individuals pursue advanced work across a wide range of academic disciplines, professions, and creative arts. Radcliffe Institute fellowships are designed to support scholars, artists, and writers of exceptional promise and demonstrate accomplishment who wish to pursue work in academic and professional fields and in the creative arts. In recognition of Radcliffe’s historic contributions to the education of women and to the study of issues related to women, the Radcliffe Institute sustains a continuing commitment to the study of women, gender, and society. Applicants’ projects need not focus on gender, however. Women and men from across the United States and throughout the world, including developing countries, are encouraged to apply. Arts/ Humanities/ Cultural Activities, Behavioral/ Social Sciences</td>
<td>$77,500</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>October</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Notre Dame</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>Residential fellowships are offered for scholars, artists, and scientists pursuing outstanding research in all disciplines — including the arts, engineering, humanities, law, formal, natural, and social sciences — with projects that are creative, innovative, or align with the intellectual orientation of the NDMA. Projects that integrate questions of value, meaning, or purpose in the analyses are encouraged. The Institute seeks applicants with excellent records of accomplishment pursuing fellowships for periods ranging from three weeks to a full academic year (fall and spring semesters, August through May), including those who are established within their field and those beginning their careers with promise and who have appropriate projects. Arts/ Humanities/ Cultural Activities, Behavioral/ Social Sciences</td>
<td>Up to $60,000</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>10/16/2017</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Winterthur Museum &amp; Country Estate</td>
<td>Winterthur offers unparalleled access to a wealth of museum, garden, and library collections supporting material culture research. Academic, independent, and museum scholars as well as advanced graduate students are invited to apply for short- and long-term residential research fellowships. Fellowships conduct research in a broad range of scholarly topics and academic disciplines, including: material culture studies, social and cultural history, art history, literary studies, American studies, design history, the decorative arts, landscape architecture and design, consumer culture, and conservation studies covering global topics from the 17th to the 20th centuries. All applicants are strongly encouraged to search Winterthur, visit Winterthur, and contact staff members to discuss potential research projects. The suitability of a project to Winterthur’s collections is the primary consideration of the fellowship award committee. Arts/ Humanities/ Cultural Activities, Behavioral/ Social Sciences</td>
<td>Covers accommodations</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>1/15/2018</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation</td>
<td>Mellon Career Enhancement Fellowship</td>
<td>The Career Enhancement Fellowship Program seeks to increase the presence of minority junior faculty members and other faculty members committed to eradicating racial disparities in core fields in the arts and humanities. The following are eligible to apply: (Mellon May Undergraduate Fellowship Program alumni; minority junior faculty: African Americans, Hispanics, Native Americans, and native Alaskan and junior faculty with a demonstrated commitment to eradicating racial disparities, breaking down stereotypes, and promoting cross-racial understanding in their university communities. Applicants must also meet the following criteria: currently in the third year of the tenure-track teaching appointment when applying; teaching in one of the designated fields (see website); and able to accept the Fellowship in the upcoming academic year. Arts/ Humanities/ Cultural Activities, Behavioral/ Social Sciences</td>
<td>$31,500</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>10/27/2017</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yale University</td>
<td>ISM Fellows in Sacred Music, Worship and the Arts</td>
<td>Each year, the Institute brings a group of Fellows from around the world to join its community of scholars and practitioners, normally for a one-year term. The ISM Fellows are scholars, religious leaders, and artists at all career stages whose work is in or is moving to the fields of sacred music, liturgical/ritual studies, or religion and the arts. Scholars in the humanities or the social or natural sciences whose work is directly related to these areas are also encouraged to apply. Fellows have the opportunity to pursue their scholarly or artistic projects within a vibrant, interdisciplinary community, and they may have the option to teach. The work of the Institute touches a broad array of disciplines, including: Anthropology, Art, Architecture, Composition, Creative Writing, Ethnomusicology, Film Studies, History of Art or Architecture, Languages, Literature, Liturgical Studies, Musicology, Religious Studies, Ritual Studies, Sociology, Theatre Studies, Theology, World Religions. Arts/ Humanities/ Cultural Activities, Behavioral/ Social Sciences</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>11/1/2017</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The James Weldon Johnson Institute of Emory University</td>
<td>Title VIII Research Scholars Program</td>
<td>Funded by the U.S. Department of State’s Program for Research and Training on Eastern Europe and the Independent States of the Former Soviet Union (Title VIII), provides full support for faculty seeking to conduct in-country, independent research for three consecutive months to nine consecutive months in Central Asia, Moldova, Russia, the South Caucasus, Southeast Europe, and Ukraine. Asia, Europe</td>
<td>Up to $25,000</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>October</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Russell Sage Foundation</td>
<td>Visiting Scholars</td>
<td>Russell Sage Foundation invites a number of scholars to its New York headquarters to investigate topics in social and behavioral sciences. The Foundation particularly welcomes groups of scholars who wish to collaborate on a specific project during their residence at Russell Sage. Visiting Scholars typically work on projects related to the Foundation’s current programs. All scholar applicants must have a Ph.D. or comparable terminal degree, or a career background that establishes their ability to conduct high-level, peer-reviewed scholarly research. Most selected applicants are typically several years beyond the Ph.D. Behavioral/ Social Sciences</td>
<td>Varies</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>6/28/2018</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Brown University John Carter Brown Library Research Fellowships in Colonial History
The John Carter Brown Library will award approximately forty residential research fellowships for the year July 1, 2017–June 30, 2018. Sponsorship of research at the John Carter Brown Library is reserved exclusively for scholars whose work is centered on the colonial history of the Americas, North and South, including all aspects of the European, African, and Native-American engagement. Fellowships are of two types:

Short-Term Fellowships: Two to four months with a stipend of $2,100 per month. These Fellowships are open to Americans and foreign nationals who are engaged in pre- or post-doctoral, or independent, research. Long-Term Fellowships: Supports research on the history of the British West Indies and the Caribbean Basin and the study of the history of exploration and discovery. Long-Term Fellowships are for five to ten months (with a stipend of $4,200 per month). Applicants must be American citizens or have been a resident in the United States for the three years immediately preceding the application deadline.

Colonal History Up to $4,2000 Residential Fellowship
12/1/2017 (Short and Long-term Fellowships due)
1/15/2018 (Collaborative Cluster Fellowship due)

Library of Congress Kikik fellowship
The John W. Kluge Center at the Library of Congress offers two short-term fellowships annually for independent scholars, students, and college and university faculty to conduct research based on items from the Kluge Collection. The Kluge Collection is a major collection of rare books, manuscripts, historic documents, maps and art of the Americas. The Kikik Fellow Program supports scholarly research that contributes significantly to a greater understanding of the history and cultures of the Americas. It provides an opportunity for a period of 5 months of concentrated use of materials from the Kluge Collection and other collections of the Library of Congress, through full-time residency at the Library. The program supports research projects in the disciplines of archaeology, history, cartography, epigraphy, linguistics, ethno-history, ethnography, bibliography and sociology, with particular emphasis on Florida, the circum-Caribbean region and Mesoamerica. Independent scholars, students, and college and university faculty in all disciplines are eligible. There is no degree requirement for applicants for the short-term fellowship.

Colonal History, American History $12,600 Residential Fellowship
Cancelled for 2017/2018

Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture Quaker-Term Visiting Fellowship
These 1-4 month Short-Term Visiting Fellowship are designed for scholars with strong interests in colonial history, historical archaeology, Atlantic history, Native American history, African American studies, early Jamestown, the Chesapeake, and material culture, 1500–1720. Scholars from advanced graduate students to senior scholars are invited to apply. Fellowships will make use of the College of William & Mary’s Swem Library and collections at Historic Jamestowne as well as other resources in the Historic Triangle and Richmond region. Fellows will have office space in William & Mary’s Swem Library, home of the Omohundro Institute, or at Historic Jamestowne’s Rediscovery Research Center. They will present their work at an Omohundro Institute roundtable and will also have the opportunity to participate in the intellectual life of the scholarly community in Williamsburg and Jamestown. Fellowships carry a stipend of $3,500 per month, and successful applicants will be assisted in finding short-term housing in the Williamsburg area.

Colonal History, American History $5,000 Residential Fellowship
10/10/2017

Washington College Patrick Henry Writing Fellowship
The Starr Center for the Study of the American Experience invites applications for its full-time residential writing fellowship, which supports outstanding writing on American history and culture by both scholars and nonacademic authors. The Center’s Patrick Henry Writing Fellowship includes a $45,000 stipend, health benefits, faculty privileges, a book allowance, and a nine-month residency (during the academic year 2018-2019) in historic Chestertown, Md. Applicants should have a significant book-length project currently in progress. The project should address the history and/or legacy – broadly defined – of the American Revolution and the nation’s founding idea. It might focus on the founding era itself, or on the myriad of ways that the questions that preoccupied the nation’s founders have shaped America’s later history. Work that contributes to ongoing national conversations about America’s past and present, with the potential to reach a wide public audience, is particularly sought.

Creative Writing, American History $45,000 Residential Fellowship
11/1/2017

Fine Arts Work Center Fine Arts Work Center Fellowship Program
The Fine Arts Work Center provides seven-month fellowships to ten emerging artists and ten emerging writers each year from Oct.1 through April 30. Visual Arts Fellowships are provided with a private, furnished apartment, a separate work studio of approximately 400 sq ft and a monthly stipend of $750. Visual Artists Fellowships are open to all emerging visual artists creating two-dimensional, three-dimension and time-based work. Writing Fellowships are not open to writers who have published a full-length book of creative work* (or have a contract to publish a full-length creative work) in any genre.

Creative Writing, Visual Arts $5,250 Residential Fellowship
12/2/2017 (Writing Fellowship due)
2/1/2018 (Fine Arts Fellowship due)

Bureau of Justice Statistics BJS Visiting Fellow Program
The BJS Visiting Fellow Program facilitates collaboration between academic scholars and government researchers in survey methodology, statistics, economics, and social sciences in order to further knowledge and understanding of criminal justice system operations. Fellows conduct research at BJS or at their home site, use BJS data and facilities, and interact with BJS staff. Applicants are limited to senior-level social science researchers and/or those with a high level of facility in statistics, survey methodology, mathematics, criminology, demography, economics, behavioral science, and other related fields. Applicants should have an established research record in their field and considerable expertise in their area of proposed research. Applicants must be willing to commit a substantial portion of their time (typically 6 to 18 months) to the fellowship.

Criminal Justice, Multiple Disciplines $50,000 - $200,000 Residential Fellowship
May
The Institute for Research in the Humanities at the University of Wisconsin-Madison offers five Solmsen Fellowships each year to scholars. Fifteen I Tatti Fellowships, each for twelve months, are available annually for post-doctoral research in any aspect of the Italian Renaissance between Italy and other cultures (e.g. Latin American, Mediterranean, African, Asian etc.). Subjects covered include art and architecture, history, literature, material culture, music, philosophy, religion, and science. At the time of application, scholars must hold a PhD or an equivalent degree. They must be conversant in either English or Italian and able to understand both languages. They should be in the early stages of their career, having received a PhD between 2007-2016 and have a solid background in Italian Renaissance studies. Fellows are expected to live in the Florence area and to spend at least three days a week at the center. Fellows are offered a study, use of the Biblioteca Medicea Laurenziana, access to the I Tatti Library, and use of the I Tatti Study Center. Fellows will be expected to participate in a variety of I Tatti workshops and seminars during their stay. Fellows are expected to be in residence throughout the academic year except for short research trips, lectures, conferences, etc. and may extend their residency through the following summer on a non-stipendary basis. Fellows are expected to present their work at an Institute seminar and participate in the weekly seminars. Applicants must be in possession of the doctorate at the time of application. For the 2018-2019 fellowship year, the award provides a stipend of $35,000, office space, support services, and access to all University facilities. The Institute encourages applications from senior scholars as well as junior scholars with research projects that are well advanced.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Organization</th>
<th>Program</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Fellowship Stipend</th>
<th>Duration</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Robert Wood Johnson Foundation</td>
<td>Health Policy Fellows Program</td>
<td>The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Health Policy Fellows program provides the nation’s most comprehensive learning experience at the nexus of health, science, and policy in Washington, D.C. It is an outstanding opportunity for exceptional midcareer health professionals and behavioral and social scientists with an interest in health and health care policy. Fellows participate in the policy process at the federal level and use that leadership experience to improve health, health care, and health policy. Exceptional midcareer professionals from academic faculties, government, and nonprofit health care organizations who are interested in experiencing the health policy process at the federal level are encouraged to apply. Applicants must have earned an advanced degree in one of the following disciplines: allied health professions; biomedical sciences; dentistry; economics or other social sciences; health services organization and administration; medicine; nursing; public health; social and behavioral health; or health law.</td>
<td>$165,000</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship 11/1/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Institute for Advanced Study</td>
<td>Mellon Fellowships for Assistant Professors</td>
<td>The School of Historical Studies at the Institute for Advanced Study established a program of one year fellowships for assistant professors at universities and colleges. While at the Institute they will be expected to engage exclusively in scholarly research and writing. Appointments will be for one academic year from September 1st until July 31st, and will carry all the privileges of Membership at the Institute for Advanced Study. The stipend will normally match the combined salary and benefits at the Member’s home institution. To be considered, scholars must be working on projects in areas represented in the School of Historical Studies, History of Western, Near Eastern and Far Eastern civilizations, with particular emphasis upon Greek and Roman civilization, the history of Europe (medieval, early modern, and modern), the Islamic world, East Asian studies, the history of art, the history of science, and modern international relations. To be eligible, scholars must currently hold the title “Assistant Professor” (not including the title “Visiting Assistant Professor”) at a college or university in the U.S., Canada, or as of the application deadline the scholar must not be more than ten years beyond the date of the Ph.D.</td>
<td>History Salary and benefits</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship 11/1/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Folger Shakespeare Library</td>
<td>Research Fellowships</td>
<td>The Folger Institute is a dedicated center for collections-focused research and advanced study in the humanities at the Folger Shakespeare Library. Folger fellowships join together to create high-powered, multidisciplinary communities of scholars who come from different fields but who share cohere interests in literature and history, art and performance, philosophy, religion, and politics. Through two annual competitions, the institute awards long-term fellowships and short-term fellowships. Long-term fellowships support scholars in residence for six to nine months with a monthly stipend of $5,555.55 for up to $50,000. Short-term fellowships support scholars in residence for one to three months with a monthly stipend of $2,500. Scholars must hold a terminal degree in their field and are eligible for a long-term fellowship.</td>
<td>Humanities Up to $50,000</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship 11/1/2017 3/1/2018 (Short-term fellowship due)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Institute for Historical Studies of the University of Texas at Austin</td>
<td>Visiting Fellowships for Post-Doctoral and Advanced Scholars</td>
<td>Yearlong fellowship for PhD scholars in the humanities. The James Weldon John Institute is interested in research projects across the spectrum of the humanities that examine the origins, evolution, impact and legacy of race, difference, and the modern quest for civil and human rights. It also supports research projects that examine race and ethnicity and its points of intersection with other identities and movements addressing differences along gender, class, religious, or sexual lines.</td>
<td>Humanities 75,000 for Full Professor 60,000 for Associate Professor 45,000 for Assistant Professor</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Texas, Austin</td>
<td>Research Fellowships in the Humanities</td>
<td>The Harry Ransom Center annually awards more than 50 fellowships to support short-term residencies for research projects that require substantial on-site use of its collections. The fellowships range from one to three months with monthly stipends of $3,500 (domestic) or $4,000 (international). The fellowships are open to scholars of any nationality with a Ph.D. or with a substantial record of professional achievement demonstrated on their curriculum vitae. Previous recipients of Ransom Center fellowships are eligible to reapply after two full fellowship cycles have passed.</td>
<td>Humanities $18,500</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship 11/1/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Virginia Foundation for the Humanities</td>
<td>Fellowship Program</td>
<td>The Virginia Foundation for the Humanities offers residential fellowships to scholars and writers in the humanities. The foundation seeks applications that are intellectually stimulating, imaginative, and accessible to the public. There are no restrictions on topic, and applications are invited from across the broad spectrum of the humanities. Fellowships are open to faculty members in the humanities, independent scholars, and others working on projects in the humanities. Fellowships will be provided on an office-a-few-miles-from-the-University-of-Virginia. Applicants need not have advanced degrees, but the VHF generally does not support work toward a degree. The maximum fellowship stipend is $15,000 per semester. Fellowships are awarded for one semester or a full academic year.</td>
<td>Humanities Up to $30,000</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship 12/1/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Pennsylvania</td>
<td>Andrew W. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowship</td>
<td>The Wolf Humanities Center (formerly Penn Humanities Forum) awards five one-year Andrew W. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowships each academic year to junior scholars in the humanities who are no more than eight years out of their doctorate and who are not yet tenured (may not be tenured during the fellowship year). Scholars are required to spend the year (late August–May) in residence at Penn. For the 2018-19 academic year, the topic will be Stuff (see Call for Applications on the website). Fellowships teach one undergraduate course in either the fall or the spring semester in addition to conducting their research. Applicants must have PhDs in the humanities or allied fields as anthropology or history of science. Ineligible categories include an MFA or any other doctorate such as EdD, social scientists, scholars in educational curriculum building, and performing artists (note: scholars of performance are eligible). The fellowship is open to all scholars, national and international, who meet application terms.</td>
<td>Humanities, Early Career $57,590</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship 10/15/2017</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
College of Human Ecology at Cornell University

Visiting Fellowship
The HRC welcomes several visiting fellows from around the world pursuing research projects in the Humanities. The HRC interprets the ‘Humanities’ generously. As well as supporting scholarship in traditional Humanities disciplines, its visiting fellowship programs encourage and support interdisciplinary and comparative research both within and beyond the Humanities. Each year, a theme is chosen which inspires and informs research activity within the HRC. The HRC offers fellowships with grants to cover travel (up to $AUD5,000) and accommodation in Canberra. Fellowships are from 6 to 12 weeks, with preference given to periods of 6 to 12 duration. (Shorter and longer periods of tenure may be considered in special circumstances.)

[Humanities, Interdisciplinary] $AUD 3,000 Residential Fellowship June

US Holocaust Memorial Museum

Annual Fellowship, Competition
The Jack and Joseph Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies awards fellowships on a competitive basis to support significant research and writing about the Holocaust. They welcome proposals from scholars in all academic disciplines, including but not limited to History, political science, literature, Jewish studies, philosophy, religion, sociology, anthropology, comparative genocide studies, and Law. The Mandel Center awards fellowships-in-residence to candidates working on their dissertations (ABD), postdoctoral researchers, and senior scholars. Because a principal focus of the program is to ensure the development of a new generation of Holocaust scholars, we especially encourage early- and mid-career scholars to apply. Proposals from applicants conducting research outside the discipline of history on Mandel Center strategic priorities are especially encouraged. These topics may include: literature and the Holocaust; projects utilizing the ITS collection; Jewish and especially Sephardic experiences of persecution; the Holocaust as it occurred in the Soviet Union, and the Holocaust as it occurred in North Africa.

[Law History, the Holocaust] $17,000 per month Fellowship (Non-Residential and Residential) 11/15/2017

University of Notre Dame

Kellogg Institute for International Studies Visiting Fellowship Program
Since 1983, the Kellogg Institute for International Studies has offered visiting fellowships to promote interdisciplinary international research in a supportive community of scholars. As a visiting fellow, you pursue research related to Kellogg Institute themes of democracy and human development, share your research with the Notre Dame scholarly community, and have the opportunity to publish in Kellogg’s peer-reviewed Working Paper Series. Fellowships are offered for the academic year (August to May) or the fall (August to December) or spring semesters (January to May). Fellowships include a stipend, travel expenses, medical insurance benefits, and a partial housing subsidy for the Hesburgh Center Residence or other on-campus housing.

Successful applicants will hold a PhD or equivalent degree in a social science discipline or in history. In exceptional cases, the Institute will support applicants with a PhD or its equivalent in other disciplines. The Kellogg Institute welcomes applications from eminent scholars and practitioners who do not hold a PhD.

[Law and Public Affairs] Varies Residential Fellowship 10/1/2018

Princeton University

LAPA Fellows Program
The Program in Law and Public Affairs (LAPA) at Princeton University invites outstanding faculty members of any discipline, independent scholars, lawyers, and judges to apply for visiting, residential appointments for the academic year 2018-2019. LAPA Fellows devote the major portion of their time to their own research and writing on law-related subjects of empirical, interpretive, doctrinal and/or normative significance. In addition, LAPA Fellows are expected to be in residence for ten months and participate in LAPA programs, including a biweekly seminar, a weekly luncheon discussion group, as well as some public events and conferences. The program does not support, as a primary activity, off-site fieldwork or work in remote archives, development of course materials, work in legal practice, direct advocacy of causes or residence elsewhere. All applicants must have received a doctorate, juris doctor, or an equivalent professional degree at the time of application. Typically the selected fellows hold positions at universities. Center fellowships are residential. The Center is normally able to offer fellowship support for only one semester. Within the limits of its resources, it is the intent of The Davis Center to provide a salary that, when combined with the sabbatical leave funds and outside grants, equals the normal salary paid to a fellow at his or her home university.

[Law and Public Affairs] Varies Residential Fellowship 12/1/2017

American Antiquarian Society

AAS-National Endowment for the Humanities Long-Term Fellowship
Long-term (four to twelve months) postdoctoral fellowships at AAS, designed to enable scholars to spend an uninterrupted block of time doing research in the AAS library on their projects and discussing their work with others. Mid-career scholars are encouraged to apply.

[Liberal Arts] $50,400 Residential Fellowship 1/15/2017

W.F. Albright Institute of Archaeological Research

Fellowships
The Albright annually provides up to $330,000 in fellowships and awards to 32 recipients. In addition, 32 Associate Fellowships including Senior, Post-Doctoral, and Research Fellows receive funding from other sources. Fellowships are open to students and scholars in Near Eastern studies from prehistory through the Islamic periods, including the fields of archaeology, anthropology, art history, Bible, epigraphy, historical geography, history, language, literature, philosophy and religion and related disciplines. The research period should be continuous, without frequent trips outside the country. Residence at the Albright is required. The option to accommodate dependents is subject to space available at the Albright. See website for details regarding specific fellowships.

[Middle Eastern Studies] Up to $58,800 Residential Fellowships 10/15/2017

Princeton University

Kellogg Institute for International Studies Visiting Fellowship Program
Since 1983, the Kellogg Institute for International Studies has offered visiting fellowships to promote interdisciplinary international research in a supportive community of scholars. As a visiting fellow, you pursue research related to Kellogg Institute themes of democracy and human development, share your research with the Notre Dame scholarly community, and have the opportunity to publish in Kellogg’s peer-reviewed Working Paper Series. Fellowships are offered for the academic year (August to May) or the fall (August to December) or spring semesters (January to May). Fellowships include a stipend, travel expenses, medical insurance benefits, and a partial housing subsidy for the Hesburgh Center Residence or other on-campus housing.

Successful applicants will hold a PhD or equivalent degree in a social science discipline or in history. In exceptional cases, the Institute will support applicants with a PhD or its equivalent in other disciplines. The Kellogg Institute welcomes applications from eminent scholars and practitioners who do not hold a PhD.

[Law and Public Affairs] Varies Residential Fellowship 10/1/2018

Princeton University

LAPA Fellows Program
The Program in Law and Public Affairs (LAPA) at Princeton University invites outstanding faculty members of any discipline, independent scholars, lawyers, and judges to apply for visiting, residential appointments for the academic year 2018-2019. LAPA Fellows devote the major portion of their time to their own research and writing on law-related subjects of empirical, interpretive, doctrinal and/or normative significance. In addition, LAPA Fellows are expected to be in residence for ten months and participate in LAPA programs, including a biweekly seminar, a weekly luncheon discussion group, as well as some public events and conferences. The program does not support, as a primary activity, off-site fieldwork or work in remote archives, development of course materials, work in legal practice, direct advocacy of causes or residence elsewhere. All applicants must have received a doctorate, juris doctor, or an equivalent professional degree at the time of application. Typically the selected fellows hold positions at universities. Center fellowships are residential. The Center is normally able to offer fellowship support for only one semester. Within the limits of its resources, it is the intent of The Davis Center to provide a salary that, when combined with the sabbatical leave funds and outside grants, equals the normal salary paid to a fellow at his or her home university.

[Law and Public Affairs] Varies Residential Fellowship 12/1/2017

American Antiquarian Society

AAS-National Endowment for the Humanities Long-Term Fellowship
Long-term (four to twelve months) postdoctoral fellowships at AAS, designed to enable scholars to spend an uninterrupted block of time doing research in the AAS library on their projects and discussing their work with others. Mid-career scholars are encouraged to apply.

[Liberal Arts] $50,400 Residential Fellowship 1/15/2017

W.F. Albright Institute of Archaeological Research

Fellowships
The Albright annually provides up to $330,000 in fellowships and awards to 32 recipients. In addition, 32 Associate Fellowships including Senior, Post-Doctoral, and Research Fellows receive funding from other sources. Fellowships are open to students and scholars in Near Eastern studies from prehistory through the Islamic periods, including the fields of archaeology, anthropology, art history, Bible, epigraphy, historical geography, history, language, literature, philosophy and religion and related disciplines. The research period should be continuous, without frequent trips outside the country. Residence at the Albright is required. The option to accommodate dependents is subject to space available at the Albright. See website for details regarding specific fellowships.

[Middle Eastern Studies] Up to $58,800 Residential Fellowships 10/15/2017
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Organization</th>
<th>Fellowship Name</th>
<th>Eligibility</th>
<th>Field(s)</th>
<th>Stipend</th>
<th>Duration</th>
<th>Start Date</th>
<th>End Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Bogliasco Foundation</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>Applications are accepted from those doing both creative and scholarly work in the following fields: Archaeology, Architecture, Classics, Dance, Film/Video, History, Landscape Architecture, Literature, Music, Philosophy, Theater, and Visual Arts - without regard to nationality, age, race, or gender. Applicants should demonstrate significant achievement in their disciplines, commensurate with their age and experience. Residencies at the Bogliasco Study Center last approximately 30 to 34 days and are scheduled during the two semesters of the academic year: Fall (mid-September to the third week of December) and Spring (Early February to the second week of May). Bogliasco Fellowships cover room and board but do not provide a travel or living stipend.</td>
<td>Multiple Disciplines</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>1/15/2018</td>
<td>4/15/2018</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social Science Research Council</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>The Aloe Fellowship is designed to encourage international multidisciplinary research on topics of pressing global concern. It strives to promote a new level of intellectual cooperation between the Japanese and American academic and professional communities committed to and trained for advancing global understanding and problem solving. Applications are welcome from scholars and nonacademic research professionals. Applicants are invited to submit proposals for research in the social sciences and related disciplines relevant to any one or any combination of the following four themes: Threats to Personal, Societal, and International Security; Growth and Sustainable Development; Social, Scientific, and Cultural Trends and Transformations; Governance, Empowerment, and Participation. This competition is open to citizens of the United States and Japan as well as to nationals of other countries who can demonstrate strong and serious long-term affiliations with research communities in Japan or the United States. Applicants must hold a PhD or the terminal degree in their field, or have attained an equivalent level of professional experience at the time of application.</td>
<td>Multiple Disciplines</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>September</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Carei Institute for Global Good</td>
<td>Logik: Nonfiction Program</td>
<td>The Carey Institute for Global Good believes that an informed, educated and engaged citizenry is essential to the functioning of democratic society. The Logik Nonfiction Program at the Carey Institute supports this belief by advancing deeply reported, longform nonfiction about the most pressing issues of the day and then helping to disseminate it on a variety of media platforms to the widest possible audience. Logan Nonfiction fellows are provided the necessary tools to complete their critical work at the Carey Institute. Private lodging, work space, sophisticated technological support (including Wi-Fi), a state-of-the-art screening room and dedicated space, equipment and software for video, film and radio editing) and meals are provided. Documentarians, journalists and nonfiction writers working at the professional level in their fields are eligible to apply once each calendar year.</td>
<td>Non-fiction Writing, Communications</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>5/31/2018</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>Each year, the Kroc Institute’s Visiting Research Fellows Program brings outstanding scholars focused on peace research to the University of Notre Dame for a semester or a full academic year. Applications for the 2018-2019 academic year are available for the following areas: Gender and Conflict/Peacebuilding; Conflict-related Migration and Diaspora Communities; Peace Studies with a geographical focus on South and/or East Asia; Peace Studies (open). Applicants must have completed a doctoral degree. If you are currently enrolled in a Ph.D. program, you must have completed your doctoral degree before the beginning of the fellowship. Fellowships begin at the start of the University of Notre Dame for a semester or a full academic year. Applications are welcome from scholars and nonacademic research professionals. The fellowship recipient will receive an award of $6,500 for a summer or sabbatical residency of approximately six weeks to use the unique resources available from the College and the Cornell University Library system in pursuit of scholarly research in the history of Home Economics and its impact on American society. Relevant historical subject areas may include, but are not limited to: war and conflict; social justice and human rights; science, health, agriculture, environment and technology; biographies, histories and government; education; journalism and the media; and, economics and business.</td>
<td>North American History, Sociology</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>10/5/2017</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Antiquarian Society</td>
<td>Fellowships for Creative and Performing Artists and Writers</td>
<td>4 week visiting fellowships for historical research by creative and performing artists, writers, film makers, journalists, and other persons whose goals are to produce imaginative, non-formulaic works dealing with pre-twentieth-century American history.</td>
<td>North American History</td>
<td>$5,000</td>
<td></td>
<td>May</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Bogliasco Foundation</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>The fellowship recipient will receive an award of $6,500 for a summer or sabbatical residency of approximately six weeks to use the unique resources available from the College and the Cornell University Library system in pursuit of scholarly research in the history of Home Economics and its impact on American society. Relevant historical subject areas may include, but are not limited to: war and conflict; social justice and human rights; science, health, agriculture, environment and technology; biographies, histories and government; education; journalism and the media; and, economics and business.</td>
<td>North American History, Sociology</td>
<td>$6,500</td>
<td></td>
<td>March</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Notre Dame</td>
<td>Kroc Institute Visiting Research Fellowship</td>
<td>The fellowship recipient will receive an award of $6,500 for a summer or sabbatical residency of approximately six weeks to use the unique resources available from the College and the Cornell University Library system in pursuit of scholarly research in the history of Home Economics and its impact on American society. Relevant historical subject areas may include, but are not limited to: war and conflict; social justice and human rights; science, health, agriculture, environment and technology; biographies, histories and government; education; journalism and the media; and, economics and business.</td>
<td>Peace</td>
<td>Up to $50,000</td>
<td></td>
<td>12/11/2017</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Institute of Current World Affairs (ICWA)</td>
<td>Fellowships for Creative, Artists, Humanists, and Social Scientists</td>
<td>Residential fellowship supports scholars, scientists, artists, and writers of exceptional promise and demonstrated accomplishment who wish to pursue work in academic and professional fields and in the creative arts. The flexible Institute maintains a continuing commitment to the study of women, gender, and society; however, applicants’ projects need not focus on gender. Visual artists and film, video, sound, and new media artists may apply to come for either one or two semesters.</td>
<td>Performing Arts, Visual Arts</td>
<td>Up to $77,500</td>
<td></td>
<td>Several In Fall</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Senior Research Fellowships are available to scholars with a PhD or its equivalent. These grants are designed to enable scholars who specialize in the visual arts, visual artists, and composers in residence interacting with each other at meals, open studios, readings and recitals.

Residential Fellowship

For early- to mid-career political scientists to learn more about Congress and the legislative process through direct participation as full-time legislative aides in the House of Representatives and/or Senate from December to August.

Political Science

Residential Fellowship

Admission to VCCA is highly selective, based on a review of applications by panels of professional artists. VCCA provides room, board and individual studios where Fellows work without distraction for residencies ranging from two weeks to two months. While Fellows are left alone to work, the atmosphere at VCCA is also heady with creative energy. At any given time, there are 25 writers, visual artists and composers in residence interacting with each other at meals, open studios, readings and recitals.

VCCA Residency

Virginia Center for the Creative Arts

12/6/2017

Senior Research Fellowships are available to scholars with a PhD or its equivalent. These grants are designed to enable scholars who specialize in the visual arts, visual artists, and composers in residence interacting with each other at meals, open studios, readings and recitals.

Performing Arts, Visual Arts, Language and/or Literature

Residential Fellowship

1/15/2018

May

September

American Political Science Association

Congressional Fellowship Program for Political Scientists

For early- to mid-career political scientists to learn more about Congress and the legislative process through direct participation as full-time legislative aides in the House of Representatives and/or Senate from December to August.

Political Science

Residential Fellowship

12/4/2017

Harvard University

Warren Center Faculty Fellowships

The 2018-19 Warren Center Faculty Fellowship will be on the theme of U.S Power in the Global Arena, led by Erez Manela (History), and Fredrik Logevall (History). The goal of this Warren Center fellowship is to take stock of recent developments in the historiography of U.S. global power, including in its diplomatic, military, economic, and cultural manifestations. High politics and state-to-state relations will of course be a concern, but consideration will be given as well to the role of international organizations and non-state actors. Applicants may not be degree candidates and should have a Ph.D. or equivalent. Fellows have library privileges and an office which they must use for at least the 9-month academic year. The Center encourages applications consistent with the theme and from qualified applicants who can contribute, through their research and service, to the diversity and excellence of the Harvard community. Stipends are individually determined according to fellow needs and Center resources, up to a maximum of $56,000.

Residential Fellowship

12/15/2017

Society for Research and Child Development

Policy Fellowships

There are currently two types of federal fellowships: Congressional and Executive Branch. Both fellowships provide exciting opportunities for researchers to come to Washington, DC and use developmental science outside of the academic setting to inform public policy. In Congressional Fellowships, fellows spend one year with a placement that involves working for a Congressional committee, in the office of a member of Congress, or in a Congressional support agency that works directly for members or committees of Congress. In Executive Branch Fellowships, fellows are involved with iding research and policy through a variety of responsibilities. Past fellows have been provided with training opportunities to work programmatically and research funding; the Federal regulatory process; program evaluation for Federal programs; and other implementation aspects of Federal policymaking. These fellowships are open to individuals with a doctorate from any discipline relevant to child development, and both early and mid-career professionals are encouraged to apply. The goals of the fellowships are: (1) to contribute to the effective use of scientific knowledge about child development in the formation of public policy; (2) to educate the scientific community about the development of public policy; and (3) to establish a more effective liaison between developmental scientists and the Federal policy-making mechanisms. Fellows must be U.S. citizens.

Public Policy, Multiple Disciplines

Residential Fellowship

Up to $50,000

12/15/2017

Library of Congress

Kluge Fellowship in Digital Studies

The John W. Kluge Center at the Library of Congress announces a new Kluge Fellowship in Digital Studies to examine the impact of the digital revolution on society, culture and international relations using the Library's collections and resources. Proposals are sought from scholars in all disciplines worldwide that will generate deep, empirically-grounded understandings of the consequences of the digital revolution on how people think, how society functions, and on international relations. Proposals may also explore and analyze emerging trends and new phenomena that may generate consequential changes in the future. Residents are for up to 12 months. All proposals must state the importance of the research to fundamental thinking about the human condition. Applicants with Ph.D.s or other advanced terminal degrees are strongly preferred.

Sociology

Residential Fellowship

$56,200

12/9/2017

American Institute of Indian Studies

Senior Research Fellowships

Senior Research Fellowships are available to scholars with a PhD or its equivalent. These grants are designed to enable scholars who specialize in South Asia to pursue further research in India and to establish formal affiliation with an Indian institution. Short-term awards are available for up to four months. Long-term awards are available for six to nine months. A limited number of humanists will be granted fellowships paid in dollars funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

South Asia

Residential Fellowship

7/1/2018

Humanities Research Center at Australian National University

ICWA Fellowship Program

The ultimate aim of the ICWA Fellowship program is to cultivate deep expertise in foreign countries and cultures. This is achieved by supporting a Fellow over a two year period, during which she or he carries out an immersive program of self-designed, independent study abroad. Extensive professional experience in the proposed area is not always necessary; Fellows are aimed at developing advanced knowledge and professional skills, not awarding research or reporting opportunities to those who already possess them. Strong candidates generally propose topics for the Fellowship that are in areas of the world and topics that are less well understood and that are relevant to the United States are more compelling. Candidates are encouraged to browse ICWA’s archives to see the kind of projects that the Institute has supported. Candidates must be under 36 years of age at the due date for the initial letter and have the necessary language skills to carry out their proposed project.

Study Abroad, Multiple Disciplines

Residential Fellowship

1/1/2018

National Gallery of Art - Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts

Senior Visiting Fellowships

Stipends for two-month residential fellowships for research in the history, theory, and criticism of the visual arts (painting, sculpture, architecture, landscape architecture, urbanism, prints and drawings, film, photography, decorative arts, industrial design, and other arts) of any geographical area and of any period. Applications are also solicited from scholars in other disciplines whose work examines artifacts or has implications for the analysis, interpretation, and criticism of visual form.

Visual Arts

Residential Fellowship

$6,000 – 8,000

March

September

CSU Office of Foundation Relations

RFP Opportunities in the Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Institution</th>
<th>Fellowship Title</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Arts/Field</th>
<th>Amount</th>
<th>Fellowship Type</th>
<th>Deadline</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>National Gallery of Art - Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts</td>
<td>Senior Fellowships</td>
<td>Senior fellowships are intended for those who have held the PhD for five years or more at the time of application, or who possess an equivalent record of professional accomplishment. One Paul Mellon Fellowship and four to six Ailsa Mellon Bruce, Samuel H. Kress, and William C. Seitz Senior Fellowships are awarded each academic year. Paul Mellon and Ailsa Mellon Bruce Senior Fellowships support research in the history, theory, and criticism of the visual arts of any geographic area and of any period. Samuel H. Kress Senior Fellowships support research on European art before the early nineteenth century. The William C. Seitz Senior Fellowship primarily supports research on modern and contemporary art. Senior fellowship applications are also solicited from scholars in other disciplines whose work examines artifacts or has implications for the analysis and criticism of forms. Residential fellowships are for full-time research, and scholars are expected to reside in Washington and to participate in the activities of the Center throughout the fellowship period. Lectures, colloquia, and informal discussions complement the fellowship program.</td>
<td>Visual Arts</td>
<td>Up to $50,000</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>10/15/2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>United States Institute of Peace (USIP)</td>
<td>Senior Fellowship</td>
<td>Fellows are generally mid- to senior-career level experts in fields related to peace and conflict. They may be academics, independent writers and researchers, journalists, or practitioners. Citizens of any country are eligible to be senior fellows. Fellowships are generally in residence at USIP but may include periods of research in the field or time spent with USIP staff on projects in the field. Generally, the USIP aims to have fellowships include a period of 6 months total in residence so that the fellow may be integrated into USIP and both contribute to and benefit from the life of the Institute.</td>
<td>War/Conflict</td>
<td>Up to $10,000 per month</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>Rolling basis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harvard University- Harvard Divinity School</td>
<td>Women's Studies in Religion Program: Research Associate and Visiting Faculty</td>
<td>Each year Harvard Divinity School selects five candidates for full-time Research Associate and Visiting Faculty positions in its Women’s Studies in Religion Program. Proposals for book-length research projects using both religion and gender as central categories of analysis are welcomed. They may address women and religion in any time, place, or religious tradition, and may utilize disciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches from across the fields of theology, the humanities, and the social sciences. Research Associates are required to be in full-time residence at Harvard Divinity School while carrying out their proposed research projects during the academic year. Each associate teaches a one-semester course related to the research project, and the associates present their research in a public lecture series and at an annual conference. Positions are open to candidates with doctorates in the fields of religion and to those with primary competence in other humanities, social science, and public policy fields who demonstrate a serious interest in religion and hold appropriate degrees in those fields.</td>
<td>Women's Studies (Religion)</td>
<td>$60,000</td>
<td>Residential Fellowship</td>
<td>10/15/2017</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>